Dear Professor Radev,

It is my pleasure, on behalf of the Academic society of University of Zilina and personally on my behalf to congratulate you for beginning the procedure of transformation of the College of Telecommunications and Post to Higher School of Telecommunications and Post.

We are firmly convinced that with this highly appreciated act we can reinforce our collaboration in the fields of education, research, student and staff exchange. This decision will contribute to closer cooperation between our institutions.

Students from the College of Telecommunications and Post have high-quality theoretical and practical training, they took an active part in research projects and in mobility through European programs. They have a unique opportunity to study at the only higher educational institution offering education in the field of telecommunication, postal and courier services.

I also address you to express my gratitude for being our partner and to express my conviction that our friendship and cooperation will continue to developed and consolidate.

Yours sincerely,

Mr.

LETTER OF SUPPORT

To whom it may concern

I hereby confirm that the University of Žilina highly supports the transformation of the College of Telecommunications and Post into the Higher School of Telecommunications and Post.

The continuous educational and scientific cooperation between our institutions lasts for many years. Our university has accepted students from the College of Telecommunications and Post within the framework of EU LLP/ERASMUS programme and we can confirm our satisfaction with their quality and level of their previous education.

We appreciate the transformation of the College of Telecommunications and Post into the Higher School of Telecommunications and Post, which will foster our closer cooperation in the fields of science and research. Its rather unique orientation on the postal and courier services fits well with the orientation of our University's faculties, providing numerous possibilities for sharing the experience, best practices and improved cooperation in the European Higher Education Area (EHEA) and European Research Area (ERA).

We firmly believe that this transformation will strengthen our future fruitful cooperation.

We, from the Szechenyi Istvan University welcome the initiative, and congratulate you and your team on the effort, to transform the status to Higher School of Telecommunications and Post.

As we all know telecommunication and information technologies are the most dynamically developing sphere of the human activities. The College's principal task is to give to its graduates the knowledge they need in order to play an adequate role in our modern, technologically advanced society. With College's programmes, which are based on many years of tradition in education the College help its students to become educated individuals who will be able to use their knowledge and skills in present conditions as well as in the future.

The College of Telecommunications and Post and the Szechenyi Istvan University share a long history of very close relations. The collaboration extends from students exchanges on Bachelor level to guest lectures by visiting professors, and many more exchanges. We also have good experience in accepting students from the College of Telecommunications and Post to our Bachelor and Masters programs.

Taking into account the above mentioned we fully support the transformation of the College of Telecommunications and Post to Higher School of Telecommunications and Post.

We are firmly convinced that the transformation of the College to Higher school will open new horizons and challenges for our future collaboration!

Recommendation letter

To whom it may concern

The University of Debrecen (Hungary) has been a partner of College of Telecommunications and Post (Sofia) for several years. The traditional excellent collaboration between the two institutions involves the exchange of students, staff, non-teaching staff and related to other types of activities too.

We are partners in a consortium as well focusing the different fields and aspects in telecommunication such as sustainability, social corporation, innovation etc. This consortium runs every year a two-week long programme for students of 14 European institutions with great success. The students from the College of Telecommunications and Post belong always to the most motivated, well-trained and most committed ones.

I also know a number of the staff personally, and I am really convinced that they professional abilities and international recognition are excellent. It gives me an immense pleasure to support the College of Telecommunications and Post in its way to achieve a higher level in education and become Higher School of Telecommunications and Post.
